

LIVE AUCTION

starts at 9:30 pm

MARK PLOTKIN AUCTIONEER

• PAINTED HISTORY FROM NATHANS

Truly a one of a kind piece of Georgetown history from the late great Nathan's. Carol Joynt has generously donated the four seven-foot-high handpainted panels depicting Georgetown in the late 1800s which hung in the entrance foyer of the venerable Nathan's Restaurant. The scenic panels depicting the canal, tow path, Potomac River, the old Aqueduct bridge, Roosevelt Island — and even the White House in the distance — were commissioned by Carol and painted by noted artist, Neal Oseroff. It's impossible to put a price tag on this valuable memorabilia.

• AN EVENING OF INTRIGUE:

SCAVENGER HUNT DINNER PARTY FOR 30

Go undercover and host an exciting evening for thirty of your friends without lifting a finger. This scavenger hunt begins with cocktails and appetizers at a fabulous Georgetown home. There you will receive your assignments and be divided into teams. Now it's off to unveil Georgetown's hidden mysteries. Once your mission is complete you will reconvene over dinner and drinks at another Georgetown home where the best sleuths will be crowned. This is a truly fun and memorable evening but shhhhhh don't let too many people know....
Opening Bid: $1000

Donated by: Constance Chatfield-Taylor, Colleen & John Girouard, Jacqueline Pletcher and Charles Eisen.

• LIVE THE REAL MIDNIGHT IN MOSCOW

Two lucky people can fly business class from Washington to Moscow courtesy of Aeroflot Russian Airlines. While in Moscow, you will be the guests of the Moscow Symphony Orchestra for a performance at the Great Hall of the Moscow Conservatory. And to get you in the mood, tonight take home a six CD box set of their performances courtesy of the Global Arts Network. Estimated retail value of this once in a lifetime opportunity: $9,000
